

Call for Papers Special Edition: How colleges and university responded to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Journal of Security, Intelligence, and Resilience Education (JSIRE) is publishing a Special Edition: How Security, Intelligence, and Resilience Academics Adapted to COVID-19.

COVID-19 has impacted all aspects of life worldwide. Colleges and Universities too have felt and continue to feel the impacts of the pandemic. JSIRE is publishing a Special Edition to capture the challenges, opportunities, plans, efforts, and thoughts of college and university academics during the pandemic.

Due to popular demand, the deadline has been extended to September 14, 2020.

Manuscripts and any questions should be submitted to jsireeditor@monmouth.edu

MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION INFORMATION

Four to five pages (1,250-1500 words), Times New Roman, APA 7 Formatted submitted on a Microsoft Word Document

Manuscript should identify and/or answers the following questions/prompts

- Name of College/University and Program *academies (e.g. police/fire/ems/military) programs are eligible
- Size of College (# of students; undergraduate and graduate)
- How the college adapted to COVID-19 conditions
 - ✓ transitioning from face to face (f2f) classes to remote on-line/hybrid
 - ✓ cancelled classes/changed academic schedule
 - ✓ closed dorms/campus
 - ✓ students allowed to opt Pass/Fail for some/all classes
 - ✓ modified/cancelled labs
 - ✓ modified/cancelled internships
 - ✓ cancelled/postponed graduation/ceremonies or held remotely
 - ✓ other
- Identify any/all challenges/opportunities
 - ✓ technical, IT
 - ✓ push-back [faculty/students]
 - ✓ accommodating special needs/underserved students, faculty, and staff/contractors
 - ✓ faculty embraced/struggled/rejected OL teaching
 - ✓ students embraced/struggled/rejected OL learning
- SUM 2020 semester conditions
- Plans for FA 2020 semester
- Real/perceived long-term implications for colleges/universities
- Other as appropriate

We look forward to your submissions

John Comiskey, EdD.

Editor in Chief